

Causes of the Revolution Review II

Pretend you're a British citizen living in the colonies. Write a letter to a family member in England explaining the problems the Colonists are having with Parliament, and the steps the Colonists took to protest.

	Level 4- Proficient +	Level 3- Proficient	Level 2-Emerging
Style	Letter is written using 1 st person narration. Complete sentences use a variety of vocabulary terms from the unit effectively.	Information is written as a paragraph. Complete sentences use some of the vocabulary terms from the unit.	Information is written in bullets. Sentences are incomplete and use little vocabulary from the unit.
Explanation of problem	The problem between the Colonists and Parliament is explained thoroughly in several sentences and includes the issue of both lack of representation and violation of rights.	The problem between the Colonists and Parliament is explained basically in one sentence. Either representation or rights, but not both is mentioned.	Key issues are left out of the explanation of the issues between the Colonists and Parliament.
Examples of Colonial protest	There are at least 3 different examples of ways Colonists protested the actions of Parliament. The examples are explained thoroughly.	There are 3 examples of protests, but they are either similar or are not thoroughly explained.	There are less than 2 examples of protests and no explanation is given.